

CAMPUS COMMUNITY RADIO: THE ANNA FM EXPERIENCE AT INCULCATING EVERYDAY SCIENCE AWARENESS AMONG MARGINALISED WOMEN

NEERAJA PRABAKAR

ABSTRACT : The paper focuses on 'Science for Women'- a participatory campus community radio initiative Anna FM with marginalised women. The initiative has demonstrated some impressive gains in terms of information-spread, increased knowledge and changed attitudes and helps bridge the gaps and divides between information and action, between knowledge and behaviour change.
