

CULTURAL, ETHNOGRAPHICAL AND RELIGIOUS CONTEXT OF GEORGIAN FOLKLORE

BADRI JIJELAVA¹, JARITA HOLBROOK² AND IRAKLI SIMONIA³

The culture of Georgia is rooted in the ancient religions which is traceable in the ethnographic data of the present day. The people who inhabited this area worshipped the star Arcturus in the Bootes constellation. This connection to Arcturus is reflected in the local folklore about the ploughman, oxen, dog and wolf.
