

MAX PLANCK AND HIS NOBEL NOMINATORS

RAJINDER SINGH¹ AND BJÖRN MARTENS²

The German physicist Max Planck was awarded the Physics Nobel Prize for the year 1918. Letters regarding his nomination were obtained by us from the archive of the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences, Stockholm. Preliminary result of their analysis is given in this short communication.
