

OF BLOOD, TRANSFUSION BLUES AND SURROGATE BLOOD

SHEEL SHARMA* AND RAJESHWAR SHARMA

As human kind leapfrogs into the new millennium, there may come soon a millennium boon : an era of surrogate or artificial blood. They will act as therapeutic agents for treating anaemias, substitutes for blood transfusion for accidental blood loss or during surgery.